

Hi coach!

Hi Leo! Nice that you could make it to practice.

FOOTBALL TEAM
B12 youth team

We were told about data protection at school, and we got an assignment to ask about the processing of our personal data in hobbies.

I know that 'personal data' means some kind of information that people can use to identify me, like my name, email address and personal identity code.

I have heard that the football club is storing my personal data in the FOOTIE system. Why are they doing that? And what else can you tell me about the subject?

It's really great that you asked! Data protection is important.

The football club processes different kinds of personal data so that you can play football. Your personal data is processed so that we coaches will know whether you will come to training, and that we can register our team for training camps and tournaments. These are just a few examples.

The football club processes your name, telephone number, email address, address and training amounts, as well as the results of your skill tests.

Your personal data is only processed by football club personnel who have the right to do so. We coaches process your personal data for training purposes, and club employee Pekka processes it for maintaining the club's membership registry. Our team manager Ebba processes your personal data in connection with signing up for training camps and tournaments, and treasurer Mike does so in connection with various payments.

The football club is using the FOOTIE system for processing personal data to monitor training amounts. We coaches have access to our team members' personal data in the FOOTIE system.

Personal data is stored in the FOOTIE system for two years, after which it is automatically erased.

You have the right...

- to obtain information on the processing of your personal data;
- to access your own data;
- to rectification of your data;
- to the erasure of your data and to be forgotten;
- to restrict the processing of your data;
- to data portability;
- to object to the processing of your data; and
- not to be subject to a decision based solely on automated processing.

Not all rights apply in all situations, but you can ask me for more details if you like.

Thanks for telling me! Now I know a lot more about the processing of my personal data.

I'm going to change into my football boots now, see you on the pitch!
